Free early education can be taken at:

- childminders registered with Ofsted
- day nurseries
- nursery schools
- pre-schools
- schools with nursery classes

All providers deliver the early years foundation stage curriculum and offer the same learning opportunities for children. All providers are inspected by Ofsted and some providers can provide flexible provision and opportunities for additional hours.

96% of all Hertfordshire providers are graded good or outstanding by Ofsted. Evidence shows that regular, high quality early education has lasting benefits for all children.

Regardless of where your child accesses their free early education entitlement they will experience a varied and stimulating range of play and early learning activities, including:

- learning by playing and exploring
- creative and critical thinking
- socialising and making friends
- having fun, in a safe and nurturing environment
- being school ready.

You can choose to take these hours at one provider or split them between providers.

You do not have to buy additional hours or additional services such as lunch or activities in order to access free early education. You do not have to pay for any part of your child's free early education.
