

FUDGE-A Home Learning Challenge:

We read the following statistic and thought that the male figures in our children's life could do much better!

'One UK father in three only reads to their child once a month'

So we have set you all a challenge: To all the fathers, uncles, grandads and other male friends-make a pledge to read to your child every week of the holidays.

The Fatherhood Institute website has some fantastic resources linked to males reading to children.
